Have fun outdoors and raise funds as you care for our wild areas!

Garlic Mustard is an invasive plant that's taking over our woodlands. It crowds out our beautiful native wildflowers and endangers forests by preventing tree seedlings from growing. To make matters worse, none of our native insects or wildlife eat it!

Help us remove this invader and keep our local natural areas healthy. Join our group as we pull and bag garlic mustard for the 2018 Garlic Mustard Pull-A-Thon, a regional competition organized by the Southeastern Wisconsin Invasive Species Consortium. You'll help revitalize natural areas and raise funds for ongoing control, education and outreach.

Recruit donations from friends, family and other sponsors! It's easy. Donations can be completed online or mailed in, with forms from www.sewisc.org. Along with your pulling, these funds are essential to controlling invasive species.
